

faster

Emergence with Us

What We Do

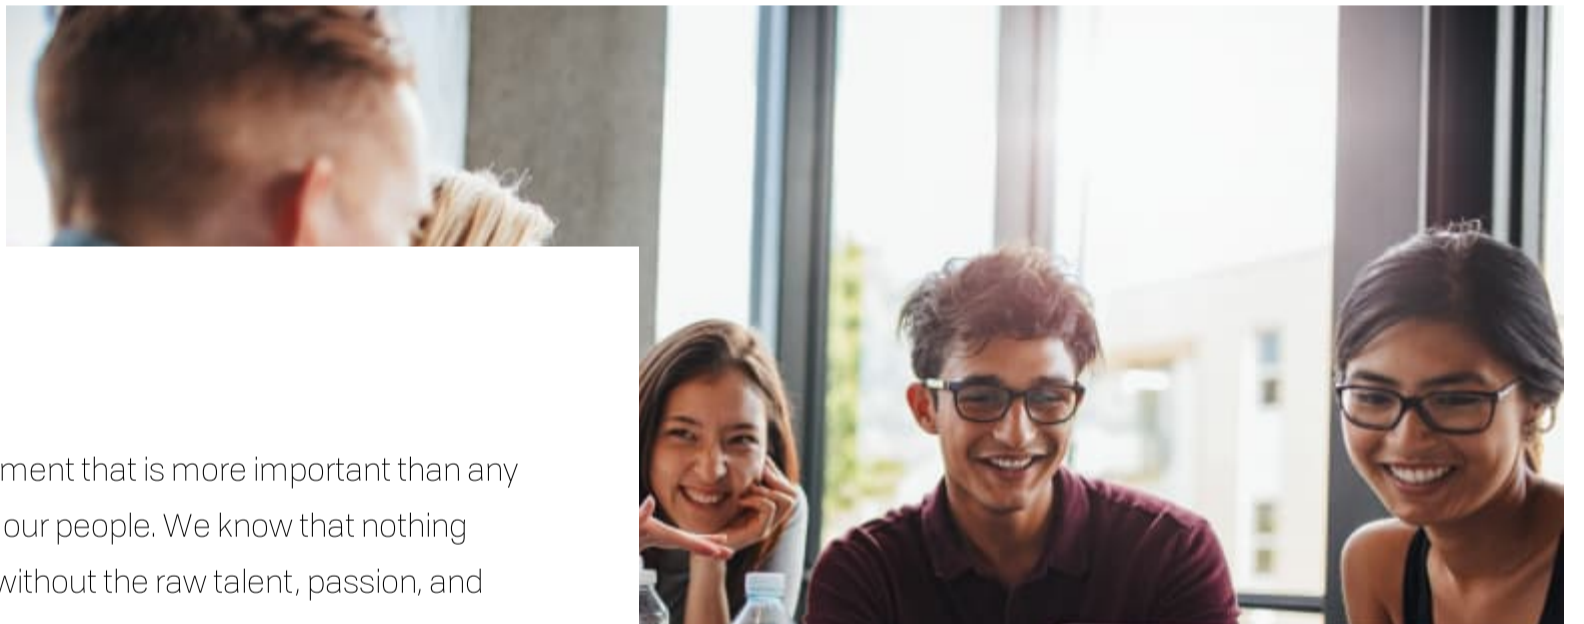

What we do today will be different by tomorrow. That is because at the core, we are a tech company — which means we are always on the move. We stay ahead by developing high-frequency, fully-automated, international exchange-based trading systems that help make these markets more efficient. With a scientific approach to everything we do, we are creating our own space in the financial-technology arena.

What We Believe

Something pivotal happens when fundamental economics and breakthrough innovation join forces. And we should know. We are continuously pushing the limits of algorithmic trading — and it sure feels good. But no matter how far we get, we are always working to outdo ourselves. What keeps us excited is the ever-evolving international exchange-based market environments that fuel more ideas, more growth, and more disruptive thinking. There is no cap to where we can go, so we will never stop innovating.

Our Work

Everyone here is proud to be part of something bigger than themselves. We love seeing our work in action, especially when it sparks major change. While we are busy making ripples, we never forget to celebrate our wins. After all — the team that plays together, stays together.

Our People

There is one investment that is more important than any other — and that is our people. We know that nothing would be possible without the raw talent, passion, and

Join Our Team

Do you have what it takes to launch ideas, create solutions, and propel an entire industry? We are always looking for top talent to join us in a variety of exciting roles.

Search jobs